Senior Class President Emma Weller

Dear Class of 2020,

This year sucked. I'm not going to pretend it didn't. I don't know about you guys, but college apps, no Falcon Pride Day, the mess with the school committee, more college stress, and now corona and quarantine! I feel like we just haven't gotten a break all year. We have made it through A LOT. But, hey, we made it through.

If I'm being honest, I was kinda okay with quarantine coming when it did because I just needed a break. I finally got to sleep and just chill out. Since then, I've discovered you can only sleep and chill out so much before it just gets boring and sad. I spend my time thinking about all the things I'd rather be doing and complaining to my friends and family about wanting to do them. But in a moment of reflection, I realized that I should be paying attention to those wishes as well, as the things that I actually can motivate myself to do.

Quarantine has given us a wonderful opportunity to clarify what brings us joy in our lives. Whether it's going for a run, friends you miss from school, surfing, or learning about a specific topic; quarantine is showing us all the amazing things we take for granted in our day to day lives. Now that we don't have those conveniences and opportunities, we can truly see just how much we have to be grateful for in our lives. Moving forward, it's important to build your life around these things that bring you joy. That way you have more of a guarantee that you will be happy in what you do. So as we prepare for more weeks of social distancing, I just want to remind you to notice the things you're missing and craving and keep them in your back pocket for the future.

For the past two months, I've been looking ahead at college and jobs and all that stuff, just to keep my mind off of what we're missing out on right now. I've been reminding myself of all the annoying high school things I don't have to deal with now, like walking around slow people in the hallway, sending emails about student gov stuff, waking up early for classes and clubs, and eating lunch in the main caf. I've done all this to cover up the feelings of loss and disappointment for a senior spring we'll never have. The spoon game shenanigans, senior prom, senior skip day, senior sunset, and Nest Fest. Not to mention the connections you make with your classmates in those last few months. I know there are loads of cool people in our grade that I would still love to be friends with that I never got the chance to. (hmu!)

Hopefully, this yearbook will give you a chance to relive some of the great moments that we did get a chance to have in our four years at CRLS and reminds you of some people you've maybe wanted to facetime but haven't yet. I can't give us a senior spring but hopefully, through reading this you'll still get some of those beautiful feelings of community, unity, and fun that we missed.

We are the class of 2020. We've already made history and we haven't even graduated yet. Let's keep it going.

Much Love,
Emma Weller
Your Senior Class President

To the class of 2020 I'll start by saying this. WE DID IT! We graduated! Thanks to everyone that has gotten to know me over these years. I have loved my time at CRLS and hope to keep the friendships I have made here for the rest of my life. I think it's pretty much my duty to tell at least tell one sappy story and trust me there are so many to choose from.

I love Cambridge but one of the worst things here is the rain. It's cold and it always manages to get in your face no matter what rain gear you're wearing. Freshman year during the second semester on a day I decided not to check the weather report nor bring a jacket or an umbrella. It poured down rain on my way to school. I mean it really poured. Just my luck.

I showed up to the first period drenched and was literally dripping water. I was so embarrassed and had no idea what I was going to do for the rest of the day. I was the first person in my class and none other than the legendary Mr. Kann came through. We talked to me briefly and I explained that I forgot a jacket and he said that it just so happened that a student last year had left a shirt and that I could have it if I wanted it. Not only did I have a sweet new shirt and no longer had to be embarrassed all day I also learned an important lesson. Always bring an umbrella and a small act of friendship can go along the way. This year did not end the way I hoped.

Frankly, the end really sucked. But I had a remarkable journey along the way. I met so many incredible people and learned so much. So although we may not have gotten the closure we wanted I beg to remember the good stuff. Remember the IHOP trips. Remember the times you laughed until you cried. Remember the sports games, plays, clubs. Remember the teacher that gave you a spare shirt on a rainy day. As you move to this next phase of life remember the time you spent here. I hope one day I will be able to see you all again but until then just remember the good times we spent together.

Thanks
SBP Simpson

Dear Class of 2020,

What a wiiiiiiiiild ride.

That's it. That was our senior year. All the buildup for no payoff. But we are done! We are finished with high school, shoved out of this time in our lives and into an even more chaotic, completely unexpected one. Congratulations.

Working on this yearbook, I am impressed by our class. Despite all the terrible things that have happened since 2016, we have pulled through. We began with Trump, then held major protests each year since: against gun violence, sexual assault, climate change, racism in Cambridge Public Schools. Our classmates have tried, time and time again, to change what doesn't work in our community. Though we may not see the results of their hard work, I hope that our class has helped set CRLS and the world on a path for real change.

I want to thank Ms. Cesario for doing so much of the work on this yearbook and making sure we get the best version possible. And Dutch Robinson, for being such a committed and helpful sophomore! Even with my spoon game plots ;)

I know high school didn't get to end the way it should have, but that's how it goes, I guess. At least it was truly unforgettable! And we get our class photo put up outside of city hall for a few weeks, so...

Enjoy the yearbook, I hope it reminds you of better CRLS days-- or at least the non-quarantine ones.

I hope that when you are reading this, things are better, the world is less messed up, and we will have had an in-person graduation. Congratulations, we made it! I can't wait to see what comes next.

It will hurt.

It will take time.
It will require dedication.
It will require willpower.
You will need to make healthy decisions.
It requires sacrifice.
You will need to push your body to its max.
There will be temptation.
But, I promise you, when you reach your goal, it's worth it.

just because you are struggling doesn't mean
you are

A poem by Mary Oliver for CRLS Seniors who have been living through a pandemic that might at times seem like "At Thousand Mornings"!

Congratulations and wishing all of you many new wonderful days in your life!

A THOUSAND MORNINGS

All night my heart makes its way however it can over the rough ground of uncertainties, but only until night meets and then is overwhelmed by morning, the light deepening, the wind easing and just waiting, as I too wait (and when have I ever been disappointed?) for redbird to sing.

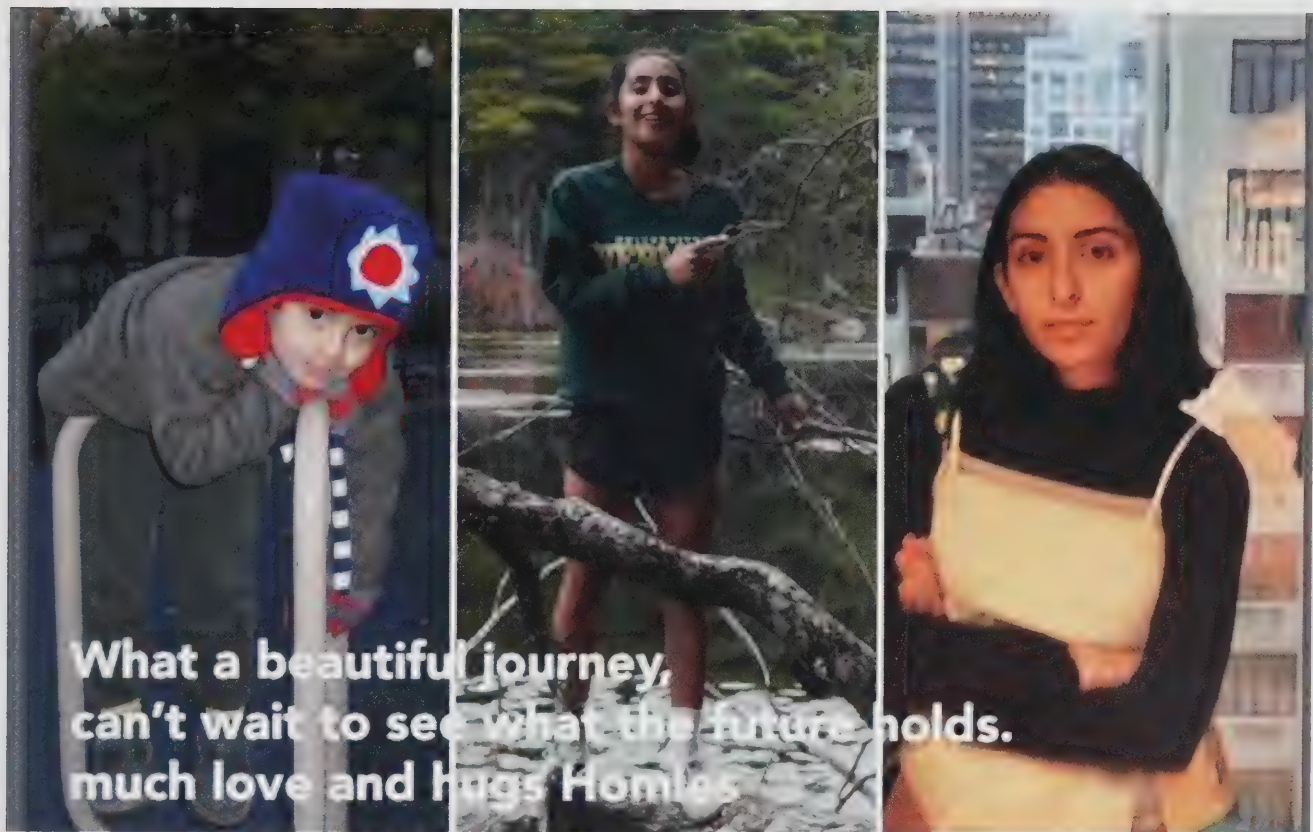

Mary Oliver, A Thousand Mornings (2012)
